Who: Performance and Planning Exchange (PPX)
(www.ppx.ca)

What: PPX to host their 24th Annual Symposium

When: May 19 – 21, 2020

Where: Ottawa Conference and Event Centre, 200 Coventry Rd, Ottawa, ON

Performance measurement and planning functions are central for improving policies, programs and service delivery. Integration of performance management into the culture of government, private sector and non-governmental contexts remains a goal to be realized. Leadership and learning that go beyond established parameters and work across organizational boundaries to develop networked or integrated approaches are essential to shifting the culture so as to foster continuous improvement.

The Performance and Planning Exchange will host their 24th annual symposium on May 19-21, 2020. Attendees will consist of more than 250 delegates from a wide variety of disciplines and government sectors. May 19 will be devoted to pre-symposium training workshops and May 20th and 21st will feature keynote speakers, concurrent breakout sessions, and exhibitors. This year's theme is Leadership and Learning for Results.

Registration will open in early 2020.

About PPX

The PPX is a federally incorporated not-for-profit corporation run by volunteers, serving as a discussion centre for developing, gathering, sharing, learning, and improving knowledge, understanding and practice of governance, planning and managing for results, accountability, and public reporting. In carrying out its mandate, the PPX encourages membership from a wide variety of disciplines and sectors and creates means for members to more easily share knowledge, experience, problems and solutions.
