

Christine Minas,
Executive Director, Health Canada

Christine Minas is Executive Director of Policy, Partnerships and Science in the Office of the Chief Data Officer at Health Canada. Previously, she was a Director in the Results Division at Treasury Board Secretariat and the Champion for the Federal Evaluation Community. She has worked in several federal departments, including many years at Employment and Social Development Canada where she held positions in evaluation, research and policy. Christine is an expert in socio-economic issues across the policy-program-delivery continuum. She served on the ESDC Mental Health Framework Implementation Committee providing leadership on progress measurement. Recognized for her leadership, Christine actively builds partnerships to achieve results. As a sociologist of work Christine holds degrees from the Universities of Toronto, Alberta and Cambridge (UK).